MRJ's- MAKING TIME FOR SACRED FELLOWSHIP

MRJ's BenAbbaZeyde Programs™

A Men's Workbook and Facilitator's Guide

By Doug Barden

This book has been designed to give men the opportunity to explore Jewish holidays and rituals from an adult, male perspective. The programs are intended to be run as group experiences, facilitated by a lay person or a member of the congregation's professional staff; and all are intended to be run as men-only programs. Through participation in these adult learning experiences, men will have opportunities to experience moments of sacred fellowship, and in turn, be more positive and effective role models for the next generation.

– Author/Editor, Doug Barden, MRJ Executive Director

“Making Time for Sacred Fellowship directly addresses the issue of gender and male participation in Progressive Jewish religious and congregational life, and provides a complete and thoughtful activity guide to encourage and deepen the spiritual connections of Jewish men to our faith. This book is a most welcome addition to our communal and religious literature and presents a programmatic distillation of the concerns and inventiveness that only a Doug Barden could offer. North American Jewish life will profit immeasurably from its wisdom and creativity!”

– Rabbi David Ellenson, President,
Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion
